Answer:

Yes. Under the Criminal Code of Canada, a security guard can perform a citizen's arrest if they have reasonable grounds to believe that a person has committed a criminal offence. However, they must do so within the scope of their authority, using only reasonable force, and promptly turn the suspect over to police. Security guards are not police officers and do not have the authority to conduct arrests beyond citizen's arrest provisions.

Explanation:

This question underscores the importance of understanding the limits of security personnel authority. While they have certain powers to detain and arrest under specific circumstances, overstepping legal boundaries can lead to liability issues.
